

Doctor of Veterinary Medicine

Platt Park Veterinary Hospital | Denver, CO

Opening Spring 2026

Where Big-City Vet Care Meets Small-Town Soul

Platt Park Veterinary Hospital is preparing to open, and we need doctors to round out our one-of-a-kind team!

That's right...DOCTORS! With a capital S. Because this hospital is going to be hopping.

Will we be able to thoroughly work up cases and provide same-day answers and in-hospital care? YES!

Are we open Monday through Friday and closed on weekends? YES!

Will we have a 32-slice CT scanner, ultrasound machine and radiology suite to provide advanced imaging services in-house? YES!

Will we have every piece of the latest and greatest lab equipment that Antech can provide? YES!

Will we have a full-time oncologist and a board-certified surgeon as part of our team to help provide over-the-top patient care? YES!

Are we independently and locally-owned, and committed to community, conservation and culture? YES!

Are we in a thriving, exciting, eclectic and charming part of Denver? YES!

Do we have two surgical suites and a fully-equipped dentistry suite to provide high quality surgical and dentistry services? YES!

Will we be able to keep surgical or hospitalized patients overnight, if needed, and will we have team members dedicated to their care? YES!

And do we have OPTIONS for the type of veterinary medicine you want to focus on day-to-day? You can say that again. YESSSSS!

Each day, we will provide wellness and general medicine services, same-day urgent care services, dentistry services and general surgical services. And each day, a doctor will be fully committed to one of these departments....all day.

Meaning, if you'd like to perform surgery all day, every day....there's a place for you.

If you'd like to see wellness and medicine appointments all day, every day, and never touch a surgical instrument...there's a place for you.

And if you'd like a balanced schedule...maybe 2 days of urgent care and 2 days of dentistry, for example....there's a place for you.

We're looking for the doctors that will help bring this hospital to life, and we're very happy to meet you where you are at in terms of your interests and passions.

We're looking for exceptional DoctorS of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) to join our founding medical team and help build something truly special from day one.

This is more than a DVM position. It's an opportunity to help shape medical culture, collaborate with an experienced leadership team, and practice high-quality, progressive veterinary medicine in a hospital that prioritizes connection, balance, and genuinely enjoying your work.

Our Mission (In a Nutshell)

At Platt Park Veterinary Hospital, Where Big-City Vet Care Meets Small-Town Soul means:

- Advanced, modern veterinary medicine delivered with warmth, compassion, and connection. We go extra lengths to make sure pets receive thorough and complete care that addresses client concerns and improves the quality of patients' lives.
- Treating pets and their people like family. We walk the talk.
- A strong commitment to community, education, and even wildlife conservation.
- A supportive, team-centered workplace where collaboration, mutual respect, and enjoying your work are genuinely valued. The hospital is independently owned by a veterinarian who works alongside the team and is actively involved in building and supporting the practice.

As a DVM on our team, you'll help bring this mission to life by practicing excellent medicine while supporting clients, patients, and the team every day.

About the Role

The Doctor of Veterinary Medicine at Platt Park Veterinary Hospital plays a key role in delivering excellent medicine while contributing to a collaborative, thoughtful, and people-first practice environment.

- Primary focus: Providing high-quality, comprehensive veterinary care, including wellness, internal medicine, surgery, dentistry, and urgent care, while building strong, trusting relationships with clients and collaborating closely with technicians, assistants, and support teams to deliver an outstanding medical experience. If there is a particular area of medicine you're especially passionate about, we are open to tailoring your role to support and grow that interest.
- Secondary focus: Collaborating on the development and refinement of medical protocols, workflows, and standards of care; supporting mentorship and professional growth within the medical team; contributing to efficient hospital flow; and helping shape the medical culture and systems of a modern, growing practice.
- Ideally, this position will begin around the time of hospital opening, with opportunities to be involved in early medical setup, protocol development, and onboarding of the medical team.

What Makes This Special

- Be part of a founding medical team at a start-up hospital where your voice, experience, and ideas truly matter.
- Practice high-quality, modern medicine with strong technician support and thoughtfully designed workflow.
- Flexibility to lean into areas of special interest while still being part of a well-rounded general medicine team.
- Work in a hospital that values collaboration, communication, and sustainable medicine
- A supportive, independently owned practice led by a veterinarian who works alongside the team.
- A culture built on respect, growth, connection, and genuinely enjoying where you work
