

Registered Veterinary Technician (RVT)

Platt Park Veterinary Hospital | Denver, CO

Opening Spring 2026

Where Big-City Vet Care Meets Small-Town Soul

Hey, lovers of all things veterinary. Do you feel the Denver vibe? Sipping coffee, or maybe some spicy tea (?)-- from your favorite local café, mountains in the distance, sun on your skin, things are happening, and you're a part of all of it. Do you dream of working in a hospital where patient care comes first, team members are supported, and learning is encouraged every day?

We got you. Platt Park Veterinary Hospital is a modern, state-of-the-art veterinary hospital opening in a retro and charming 101-year-old brick building. The hospital is located on South Broadway, in one of Denver's hippest neighborhoods. South Broadway is known for its eclectic and homegrown businesses, such as one-of-kind restaurants, avant-garde clothing stores, used bookstores, antique and artisanal shops and live music venues. Did we mention the food? And, coming soon, South Broadway has...US! (And we got South Broadway 😊).

We're looking for a Registered Veterinary Technician (RVT) to join our founding medical team.

This is more than a technician role. It's an opportunity to practice advanced veterinary medicine, grow your clinical skills, and be part of a hospital that truly values technicians as medical professionals.

Take a look at what we're building!

 Join Our Team!

 Brick House!

 Restoring Our 101-Year-Old Building!

Our Mission (In a Nutshell)

At Platt Park Veterinary Hospital, Where Big-City Vet Care Meets Small-Town Soul means:

- Advanced, modern veterinary medicine delivered with warmth, compassion, and connection. We go extra lengths to make sure pets receive thorough and complete care that addresses client concerns and improves the quality of patients' lives.
- Treating pets and their people like family. We walk the talk.
- A strong commitment to community, education, and even wildlife conservation.

- A supportive, team-centered workplace where collaboration, mutual respect, and enjoying your work are genuinely valued. The hospital is independently owned by a veterinarian who works alongside the team and is actively involved in building and supporting the practice.

As a Registered Veterinary Technician, you play a key role in delivering our mission through advanced patient care, technical expertise, and strong collaboration with veterinarians and the medical team.

About the Role

Registered Veterinary Technicians play a critical role in patient care, hospital flow, and team success.

- Primary focus: Hands-on clinical duties including patient assessment, diagnostics, anesthesia monitoring, surgical support, nursing care, and treatment administration.
- Secondary focus: Client education, maintaining accurate medical records, supporting hospital workflows, and collaborating closely with veterinarians, assistants, and support staff.

What Makes This Special

- Be part of a start-up hospital: your contributions matter from day one
- Work alongside multiple veterinarians and many team members practicing advanced medicine, including:
 - Daily urgent care services
 - Daily surgical services
 - Daily dentistry services
 - Daily wellness and medicine services
 - Oncology services
 - Board-certified surgeon
 - High-end diagnostics and modern treatment approaches, including a CT machine.
- A learning-focused environment with mentorship and growth opportunities
- A culture built on respect, teamwork, and enjoying your work

Key Responsibilities

Patient Care & Clinical Support

- Assist veterinarians with exams, diagnostics, and advanced procedures
- Prepare patients and equipment for surgery and procedures
- Monitor anesthesia and ensure patient safety
- Administer medications, vaccines, and treatments as directed
- Provide high-quality nursing care and patient monitoring

Client Education & Communication

- Educate clients on preventive care, medical conditions, and post-treatment instructions
- Support clear, compassionate communication with pet owners

Hospital Operations & Compliance

- Maintain accurate medical records in Covetrus Pulse
- Uphold OSHA standards and hospital safety protocols
- Support inventory, lab work, and equipment care as needed

Qualifications

- Registered Veterinary Technician (RVT) license required
- Previous experience in a veterinary hospital required
- Strong clinical, organizational, and communication skills
- A team-first mindset with a commitment to learning and collaboration
- Ability to lift up to 40 lbs

Schedule & Work-Life Balance

- Full-time preferred. Benefits eligibility begins at 35+ hours per week.
- Typically four 10-hour shifts per week
- Hospital open Monday–Friday, no weekends!
- We believe successful hospitals start with well-supported, happy teams.

Compensation & Benefits

- Pay range: starting at $25 per hour, based on experience and skill set
- Benefits for full-time team members include health insurance stipend, PTO and sick leave, paid major holidays, scrub allowance, EAP support, pet care discounts, stocked breakroom snacks, team meetings with breakfast provided, and more

Why Platt Park Veterinary Hospital?

Because here, you'll help build:

- A hospital rooted in Denver and the Platt Park community. A hospital that promotes wildlife and conservation and helping to take care of our world.
- A culture where people support each other and have fun.
- A modern hospital practicing exceptional medicine, without losing our heart.

Ready to help build something meaningful? We got you.

Apply today and become part of the founding team at Platt Park Veterinary Hospital.

Check out our website here:

Platt Park Veterinary Hospital

Follow our social media pages here:

Facebook

Instagram

TikTok

Platt Park Veterinary Hospital is an equal opportunity employer committed to fostering an inclusive and diverse work environment.